

FALL FINDS

There's a lot to discover this season, we'll tell you where

As crisp autumn winds replace Chicago's summer heat, the anticipation on the city's famous Michigan Avenue always builds. Soon holiday shoppers will flock to the Miracle Mile and its surrounding neighborhoods to experience the glistening glamour of the festooned store windows and the twinkling Italian lights that adorn the trees lining the Avenue. There's no denying that fall and the coming holidays are a magical time along the Avenue, one of the nation's premier shopping destinations. If there is a special ingredient that symbolizes Michigan Avenue's charm, it is quality. Few shopping areas in the world pack the punch that Michigan Avenue does so powerfully; here are goods and gear that answer every need or desire, whether luxuries or necessities...and, ah, the gifts!
