

BENTO BOX

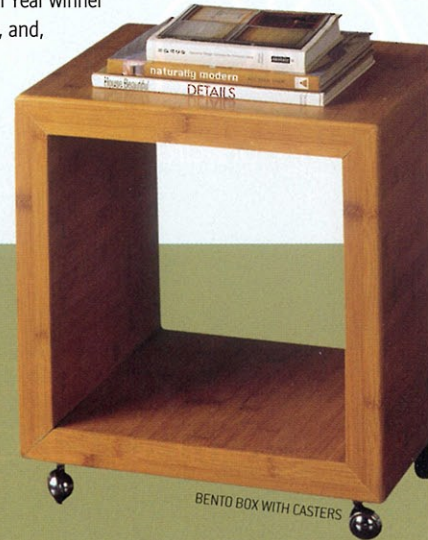

QUATTRO

What Comes Naturally

With a name like Stone Forest, it has to be granite—or does it? The manufacturer eschews man-made materials such as concrete or resin in its hand-carved kitchen and bath appointments, but the medium that put it on the map is nowhere to be found in the Quattro and Moso Vessels. Instead, the Japanese-inspired sinks are constructed from the tough exterior of bamboo shoots, grown without pesticides or fertilizers, and harvested without killing the entire plant. Quattro, 16 inches square and 6 inches high, is designed to interface with the Bento Box, either as sink support or for storage, with or without casters.

Moso, an Interior Design 2007 Best of Year winner in the bath/plumbing fixtures category, is 19 inches wide, 14 deep, and 4 high. Both are lightweight, and, obviously, water-resistant. 888-682-2987; stoneforest.com. circle 429 ➤
